In emerging economies like India, which is poised to be a leading economy of the world, Banking & Financial Services is placed amongst the most significant sector for propelling growth. In fact the BFSI sector in India is expected to grow at a much faster rate than the economy itself and contribute to form the biggest portion of the total market capitalisation .

Macro Triggers for BFSI Sector

- Long term positive regulatory impact
- Inflation expected to taper down
- Expected Rate Reduction by RBI going ahead
- Low credit GDP ratio as compared to peers
- Demographic Advantage
- New Banking Licences
- Removal of Infrastructure bottlenecks.

Fund Manager's Comment: For the month, we preferred to keep a relatively increased proportion of cash in the fund in the light of slower bank credit growth and anticipation of recession-based economy which caused banks to underperform. Overall, we have maintained a positive bias on Private Banks with decent capitalization coupled with prospects of improving credit demand. In NBFC sector, the exposure has been tilted to players who have clear resilience to liquidity shortage and a sustained growth prospect.
